TIMELY TOPICS

Wise, Super-Wise and Otherwise

New Heading

We call attention to our new heading for Timely Topics. It represents Cupid, the little blind god whispering to the woman. Dan Cupid has a north of Ireland name hence is not so blind but has some of the characteristics of the capable Irishman. As the change was inaugurated in February the month dedicated to Cupid, we felt it was appropriate to have Dan in the picture. This column run by the late "Middle Street Man" is now conducted by the Middle Street Woman who listens to Cupid as she has found he knows about many things as well as love, and that last, when you come to analyze it, is a great eye opener.

NOTICE OF IMPORTANCE.

I wish that the societies which are particular as to what is put in the paper about them would kindly appoint some one as press correspondent to give ON TIME an accurate account, properly written on one side of the paper only, pages properly numbered and with margin at top, bottom and sides, to thus provide space for insertion of corrections, headings, and necessary directions. Brown paper may be used, or even old letters that are printed or written upon one side, if the printing or writing is marked out by a line running through it. Pencil is O. K., but please make writing plain.

Items of news should reach the office of the paper for which it is intended at 65 Austin St., Cambridge, as early as Wednesday morning and earlier if possible. In these rays of delayed mail service start your copy early. Items sent to the local office, Box 77, Allerton, should reach there on Tuesday night. All mail should be sent to Allerton and not to Hull. The Allerton P. O. is in the town of Hull, but is a distinct post office working independently of that in the village. Mail sent to Hull is delayed in reaching the office which is nearer to the Allerton P. O. than it is to that in the village, which is erroneously called Hull. It should be called Hull Village.

HULL

The funeral of Mr. Frank Labree took place on Saturday afternoon from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew McLearn at Allerton. Mr. Labree was a town where he was generally liked. Frank Kingston conducted the services and also sang an appropriate solo. Interment was in the Village cemetery. Mr. Labree died in the Mattapan Hospital of consumption. He is survived by a widow, who was formerly Miss Kate Walsh of Nantasket, a sister to Mrs. McLearn.

Earl Allen, Boy Scout, has done his kind of duty frequently by coming in to the editor's office and wielding the axe.

Mrs. Lloyd P. Miller entertained her cousin, Miss Clara McKenzie and Mr. Harry Tabb, a well known Boston jeweler, over the week end.

Mrs. E. J. Sirovich sustained a broken nose Thursday evening when the car driven by Fred Mitchell struck the snow and skidded striking Lieut. Sturgis' auto in which she was just about to seat herself. The impact threw her against the windshield and as Officer Mitchell facetiously remarked it was "some nose to break a windshield."

Lieut. Sturgis kindly invited Mrs. Sirovich to ride to the rally at Waveland. After the doctor had set the

The marriage of Mr. John Henry Kimball of the Naval Reserve to Miss Zaida Merritt of Scituate is announced. Mr. Kimball is now stationed at Commonwealth Pier, Boston.

Mr. Geo. Salvador, who is stationed at New London, Conn., spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Salvador. bone, Mrs. Sirovich went to the rally. A letter from Mrs. J. H. Hubbard who is sojourning at her brother's hotel, The Broadway, Los Angeles, received at the office of the East Wind announces that she is having a good time and that her trip out was most enjoyable. She has shipped some oranges and orange blossoms to the editor's office. Her brother's orange grove adjoins the Baldwin (Lucky Baldwin) ranch.

Mrs. Frank Harlow entertained Mrs. S. W. Frost of Wellesley on Monday of last week. Mrs. Frost and Mrs. Harlow shared in a good kind of stew with dumplings for the soldier boys at Allerton. Both are famous cooks.

Vote of Thanks

The Ladies of the S. A. S. A. P. who held the Supper and Dance recently have extended a vote of thanks to Henry Walsh and Harry Sylvester for their invaluable assistance.

What In Aid S. A. S. A. P.

The what party given on Saturday night by two of the earnest workers in the S. A. S. A. P., Mrs. Frank Harlow and Mrs. W. B. Sylvester, was a jolly affair. The ladies first prize, a boudoir cap, was won by Miss Anderson, the second, a powder box, was taken by Mrs. Grace Jenkins, the consolation, a pin tray, by Mrs. John Bryant. The gents first prize, a pocket knife, went to Mr. Bryant, the second, a razor, to Mr. Bryant, the third, a bottle of "Buster won the 'booby,'" a bottle of "Catch-up." A most enjoyable donkey party was held after the delicious collation was served. The hostesses are both good cooks. For all Bob handles so many horses he didn't know where the donkey's tail belonged.

RALLY OF THURSDAY NIGHT

The rally held at the Central Fire Station Thursday night, which was addressed by J. J. McCarthy, who spoke interestingly upon the Australian ballot system for town meetings, was well attended. It resolved itself into a demonstration most enthusiastic for the candidacy of John L. Mitchell for Seaman to fill the place left vacant by the death of Captain A. A. Galiano. Mr. D. J. Murphy was present and gave a motion picture show. Some original jokes were thrown upon the screen among them being "Why is Martin Murray's head like last week's edition of the Hull East Wind?" The reply, "Because it is all red" (read). The fertile brains of John Rudderham and D. J. Murphy must be responsible for some of the jokes. The parody of "My good, simple wild over Joe," was shown, and the 65 on the 65 audience attested that John popular. In fact it was the most amusing audience attested that John as called and made a characteristically modest but eloquent little talk free from any feeling. He advocated the adoption of the Australian ballot.

Uncle Sam's Food Lessons

(Special Information Service U. S. Department of Agriculture)
START THE DAY RIGHT.

A good breakfast can be had of Fruit, Cereal, Milk. These make a nourishing, easy to cook, good, cheap meal of foods the government asks us to eat.

Use Fruit.
Fruit helps to keep your body in good health and to prevent constipation. Use fresh fruit when possible. Use prunes, dried apples, dried apricots. Soak them in water over night and cook them long enough to make them tender.

Use Dates or Raisins. These are good added to the cereal ten minutes before taking from the stove. Then you will not need sugar.
Use Ripe Bananas with Dark Skins. Bananas with greenish-yellow skins are hard to digest unless cooked.

Use Cereals.
Cornmeal mush, oatmeal, rice, hominy (grits).

These are much cheaper than the "ready-to-eat" breakfast foods. A "ready-to-eat" breakfast food may cost 15 cents for a big package, but if the package contains only one-quarter pound—80 cents a pound for cereal! This is eight or ten times as expensive as cornmeal at six or seven cents a pound. Look for the weights printed on the package and get the most for your money.

Cornmeal mush and oatmeal are good only when well cooked. Many people use too little salt and don't cook them long enough.

To cook cornmeal mush for five people use one and one-half cups of cornmeal, two teaspoons salt (level), five or six cups water. Bring salted water to a boil. Stir in the cornmeal slowly. Don't let it lump. Cook it at least 30 minutes. It is better when cooked for three hours, or overnight. Use a double boiler on the back of the stove, or a fireless cooker.

For oatmeal use two and one-half cups rolled oats, two and one-half teaspoons salt, five or six cups water. Bring the water to a boil. Stir the rolled oats slowly into the boiling water and cook for one hour, or overnight.

Eat the cereal with milk or sirup or butter or butter substitutes. You don't need bread besides.

A large amount of cornmeal or oatmeal may be cooked at one time. The unused part placed in a greased bowl may be kept for a few days in a cool place. Do you know how good salted and fried oatmeal is?

Use Milk.
Milk is an excellent food. A quart of whole milk gives as much nourishment as one pound of lean meat.

Children especially need it to make them grow strong and keep well. It is good for grown people, too. Give each child at least a glass for breakfast. Drink it hot or cold, or use it on the cereal, or make it into cocoa. Even at a high price milk is a cheap food for children.

No Coffee and Tea for Children.
These are not food. Let the grown people have them if they want them, but do not give the children even a taste. The children's drink is milk.

CHOOSE YOUR FOOD WISELY.

Study These Five Food Groups. Every food you eat may be put into one of these groups. Each group serves a special purpose in nourishing your body. You should choose some food from each group daily.

1. Vegetables and fruits.
2. Milk, eggs, fish, meat, cheese, beans, peas, peanuts.
3. Cereals—cornmeal, oatmeal, rice, bread, etc.
4. Sugar, sirups, jelly, honey, etc.
5. Fats—butter, margarine, cottonseed oil, olive oil, drippings, suet.

You can exchange one food for another in the same group. For example, oatmeal may be used instead of wheat, and eggs, or sometimes beans, instead of meat; but oatmeal cannot be used instead of milk. Use both oatmeal and milk.

You need some food from each group every day—DON'T SKIP ANY.

Here are the reasons why you need the five groups:
Fruits and vegetables furnish some of the material from which the body is made and keep its many parts working smoothly. They help prevent constipation which gives you headaches and makes you stupid. The kinds you choose depend upon the season, but remember that the cheaper ones are often as valuable as the more expensive.

You May Talk to One Man
But an advertisement in this paper talks to the whole community.
Catch the Idea?

Again We Say
In the early periods of the United States 1-cent pieces were copper, then for a comparatively short time of nickel, though the proportion which the copper and nickel coins formed of the total, very small, the entire number of copper 1-cent coins issued being 100,280,000; nickel, 200,772,000; bronze, 2,440,711,000.

your cheapest fuel. Besides, they give your body some building material.

Don't think that wheat bread is the only kind of cereal food. The government asks us to save wheat to send abroad to our soldiers and the allies. Let the North try the Southern corn bread and the South the oatmeal of the North. Half the fun of cooking is in trying new things. An oatmeal pudding is delicious.

Sugar and Sirups are fuel, too, and they give flavor to other foods. They are valuable food, but many people eat more of them than they need. Sweet fruits, of course, contain much sugar and are better for the children than candy.

Fat—Fat is fuel. Some is needed especially by hard-working people. Remember that expensive fats are no better fuel than cheap ones. Use drippings. Don't let your butcher keep the trimmings from your meat. They belong to you. Children need some butter fat. Give it to them in plenty of whole milk or in butter.
Remember the Five Groups.

SCHOOLS AID FOOD CAMPAIGN

Uncle Sam's Bureau of Education Reports Prompt Response by Pupils to Nation's Need.

The response of many city school departments to the need for the production and conservation of food in the United States has been prompt and efficient, according to Uncle Sam's bureau of education. Thirty-four city school superintendents have reported a total of 67,388 children engaged in the cultivation of home vegetable gardens.

"During the coming year the need for the production of food will be greater than ever, and profiting by our experience, we should train the children under our care to increase their production and render a greater service to our country," says a bulletin of the bureau. "During the period of the war many individuals and agencies are giving voluntarily of both time and money in the campaign for the production and conservation of food. With the return of normal times this voluntary taxation will be largely withdrawn. School-directed home-gardening has demonstrated its economic and educational value. The work should be intensified and incorporated as a part of the school program in every city and town of the United States. Gardening under the direction of a well-trained teacher returns to the community in money many times the cost of the work. The half of our population that lives in cities should in so far as possible, be taught to grow its own food that in any future crisis that may come to the United States the lack of knowledge and ability to produce food shall not be a national weakness."

URGES NATURAL ICE HARVEST

Points Out a Way to Save Millions of Tons of Coal.

A great harvest of natural ice is proposed by Uncle Sam's fuel administration as a means of saving coal this winter. Fifteen million tons of coal are used annually in American ice factories and refrigerating plants. The winter season manufactures each year without expense to man, billions of tons of ice. Most of this is wasted. Every ton of natural ice which is harvested will take the place of a ton of artificial ice and will save 500 pounds of coal.

Every householder, storekeeper and farmer who can obtain ice from nearby rivers and ponds and store it for use next summer is urged to do so.

The organization of the 5,000 ice-making plants of the country along lines of fuel economy is receiving the attention of the fuel administration.

Quite Fundamental.

He looked at his wrist watch. "Will you marry me?" he said. She blushed.

"There is really no time to lose. You see, I have only 24 hours' notice. I must report at headquarters tomorrow at nine. We sail for France in three days. Will you marry me?"

"I don't mind," she said. "Only—I should like to make one condition."

"And that is?"

"I have dreamed for years of getting married; but not in this way. But I will marry you if—when you return—you will propose to me all over again, and we can go on a honeymoon and I can be courted and—well, you know, I am sure!"

"All right," he said with a smile. "To be honest with you, dearest, I thought I was going to escape all that—but I see it's no use. I might have known better. Even a war like this cannot keep a woman from having her own way—especially about a wedding."

Kissing Always Popular.

Kissing was once a dangerous game to play in England. Thus in 1600 we read that Jacob Marline and Sarah Tuttle were prosecuted for "setting down on a chest together, his arms about her waste and her arms around his neck, and continuing in that sinful position about half an hour, in which time he kissed her and she kissed him, or they kissed one another, as ye witnesses testified."

Early United States Currency.
In the early periods of the United States 1-cent pieces were copper, then for a comparatively short time of nickel, though the proportion which the copper and nickel coins formed of the total, very small, the entire number of copper 1-cent coins issued being 100,280,000; nickel, 200,772,000; bronze, 2,440,711,000.

PERUNA—The Greatest Human Vitalizer

Mr. Wm. A. Hartman, 217½ South Second St., Muskogee, Okla., writes: "During the winters of 1897 and 1898, I was so badly afflicted with catarrh of the head and throat I must surely die from it. After trying many doctors and all other recommended remedies made known to me, I was induced to use Peruna. I was cured entirely by using twelve bottles of Peruna and one bottle of Manalin."

Since that time, I have never been without Peruna. I use it for colds and as a general tonic during Spring and Fall months and find it the greatest human vitalizer."

Those who object to liquid medicines can secure Peruna tablets.

WOMEN SUFFERERS MAY NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure to mention this paper—Adv.

A Biblical Incident.

The Liverpool Post says: "We have captured Jerusalem in the year 1917 A. D., and Biblical students are pointing out that the first mention of Jerusalem in the Scriptures occurs in the eighteenth verse of the fourteenth chapter of Genesis, where it is stated that, 'Melchizedek, King of Salem, brought forth bread and wine.' A reference to the margin in the authorized version shows that this chapter is dated B. C. 1917."

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and ¼ oz. of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. "I'm not sure," answered the little fellow. "Do cousins have two legs or four?"

HEALTH RESTORED Serious Kidney Trouble Was Removed by Doan's and Results Have Been Permanent.

"Kidney trouble put me in a bad way," says Thomas A. Knight, 624 N. Ninth St., East St. Louis, Ill. "It came on with pain across my back and the attacks kept getting worse until I had a spell that laid me up. Morphine was the only relief and I couldn't move without help. The kidney secretions were scanty, painful and filled with sediment. "I was unable to leave the house, couldn't rest and became utterly exhausted. The only way I could take ease was by bolting myself up with pillows. For three months I was in that awful condition and the doctor said I had gravel. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me back to good health and I have gained wonderfully in strength and weight."

Aptitude and capacity, he had demonstrated both, but now—the end! His mind in a deep mental trough, he saw nothing ahead but dark shadows. The lurking moon leaped forth from behind a bank of clouds and his pulse doubled as it revealed the house half a square distant where he lived. A dread purpose in his mind, he welcomed its silence and loneliness to hide him from the world.

"Gone stale," he muttered hoarsely. "They dared to say that—and hisses! The rabble! So much for genius!" Dark doors and gloom—shrouded houses again, as the orb of night was obscured. He hurried his steps. He entered the building he had aimed for, no longer a bright vision house, as it had been, but the tomb of all his fondest ambitions.

"A fallen star!" he groaned, as he entered one of the suite of rooms, his bachelor apartments. He double locked the door behind him, turned on the electric light, threw himself into the nearest chair and with bent brows sat glaring into space.

One hand had reached within his breast, groped there and came forth clasping a small square phial. He held it up towards the light, its ruby contents sparkling against the electric radiance. His face had grown preternaturally pale, but he laughed, a low, harsh, cynical laugh, full of desperation and bitterness.

"The rabble," he uttered again. "Fickle, unjust, cruel! A king dethroned! In five minutes," he added slowly, solemnly, fixing his eyes on the clock on the mantel, "then to die, to sleep, to dream, who knows?"

There was a rustle beyond the near drapery, but Darius Marsh was so absorbed in his meditations that he did not note the fact. He watched the hand of the clock, slowly, surely mark off the passing minutes. The fifth, which he had set for his doom, was nearing its end. He removed the cork from the phial. He raised the tiny bottle to his lips. Then he swung aside, abashed and dazed. Fleet as a shadow, a form had sprung from behind the draperies. A hand shot out. The fatal phial was torn from his grasp. Its new possessor gave it a fling into the grate, where it crashed into a thousand pieces.

Darius Marsh sprang to his feet to confront the intruder who had battled his deadly purpose. Flaming wrath was in his eyes. He quivered from head to foot as he raised both arms to direct their full force against the person who had invaded the privacy of his own apartments, who had dared to frustrate his designs. Then those hands fell motionless. The strong classic face died down in its expression of unrestrained fury to helpless subjugation, to an influence or emotion potent to change the lion into the lamb.

"You—Harold Wynne!"—the would-be suicide said weakly, and sank back into the chair he had just vacated, and dropping his bloodless face into his hands he bent forward, convulsing with the sentient emotions consuming his strong, but now drifting, soul.

The intruder whom Darius Marsh had designated as Harold Wynne stood directly in front of him with a plying face. For some moments there was a dead silence. Then the hand of Wynne reached out with a touch tender as that of a plying angel. It rested on the bowed head of the other.

"I feared when I learned of the blow to your pride, to your fond dreams of ambition," spoke the young man, "that you would never face it as would those of common clay. I hurried here, for I knew that here you would finally come. My friend, my patron, my more than father, oh! crush down the impulse that would make of you a reproach to yourself. You, whose might, will and genius should lift you high above the heads of the common herd."

"You do not know," began the other, and his tones were sentient with the humiliation of a proud spirit crushed down into the mire.

"I know all," interrupted the other, "and I realize the deep wound that popular caprice had dealt your noble nature. I have hastened to you, who have made me all that I am. I have abandoned all my own puny affairs and have come to remain by your side, your champion, your protector, until back into the teeth of the snarling critic, the hidden snakes in the grass, your envious rivals, you have flung the taunting reproach with which they dared to assail you. What! Lie down to be crushed by that groveling horde! Oh, never! never! You shall rise to your glory and grandeur. Aye, higher and more brilliant, more steadfast. I know it! I swear it! I have come to help you accomplish it, with faith in your rare dramatic power. I know that the world needs you, wants you."

Darius Marsh lifted his bloodless face, a faint token of hope apparent amid its weariness.

"If there were nothing but the tide of gratitude and devotion that binds me to you," began Wynne, "and regard for the noble woman whose love is an inestimable treasure—" "Do not name her; I forbid you!" cried Marsh, springing to his feet and pacing the floor in poignant, uncontrollable emotion. "That is a dream gone by. Think you, I would link her glorious fame to the failure, the humiliation, the poverty that is now my lot? She, the matchless, whose spell of melody has held two continents in thrall. Never! I had hoped to sustain the incomparable reputation I had seemingly won. I saw not only fame, but wealth ahead. And now, crumpled to dust, I see the false fabric of my vision in ruins."

This had happened: Darius Marsh for a year had held the popular stage as the most finished tragedian of a quarter of a century. He had practically adopted Harold Wynne, the son of a dead friend, and had seen him started upon a substantial and promising business career. He had won the love of the superb queen of song, Aelene Ward. That stately woman had given up her career to become the wife of a man to whom she had given the deepest love of her heart. She was wealthy, and up to a month ago Mr. Marsh, earning the highest competition in the profession, had won glorious laurels and money without stint.

There were those who had envied him; there were critics whom his open, independent way had offended. Then, too, he had come to a city where the audiences were of the coarser grade. His magnificent rendition of one of the most peerless of all Shakespearean characters had palled upon the shallow appreciation of an audience whose tastes had been vitiated by the tinsel allurement of burlesque and rag-time music. The management read the end in depleted audiences. One night there was no applause, the next a hiss. In the strength of his pride Darius Marsh recoiled his contract.

His ingratitude to a capricious public, the petty meannesses of his enemies. Sensitive, tuned up mentally like to a delicate instrument, he resolved never again to appeal to popular favor, and the impulse to end it all had overweighed his reason for the time being.

It was love and devotion that carried the day, the influence of loyal Harold Wynne, a realization of the unselfish affection of the noble-souled operatic star. Within a week's time Wynne had unfolded his plan. Reluctantly and half dubiously Marsh assented to its details.

It was a month later when the largest theater in the city advertised as a leading feature for the next week's program "the marvellous impersonator, Walsingham." No one had ever heard of him before, but the statement was advertised broadcast that he was one of the most extraordinary mimics in the world.

His repertoire included impersonations of all the great tragedians. So faithful to nature were these, that after the first night the house was fairly packed. The feature became the attraction of the week. Then for the last performance it was announced that Walsingham "would give an impersonation of Darius Marsh in his famous Shakespearean success."

There was a certain mystery surrounding Walsingham. He never appeared in public. He got to his dressing room and out of it wearing a false beard and evaded all fellow artists. On the final night of the engagement a woman sat far back in a private box. She was Aelene Ward. Nearer to the front sat Harold Wynne.

The impersonation of "the fallen star" began amid a deep hush. Those who had seen the original role sat spellbound. Then as the actor backed off the stage the critics were cheering, old playgoers stood up waving their arms in a frenzy of enthusiasm. The vast auditorium was almost a scene of riot. Never had so faithful and thrilling a portrayal been delivered! Amid thunders of applause Walsingham returned to the stage. He was recalled once, twice, thrice. Then, removing wig and facial mask, he stood revealed—Darius Marsh.

In a flash the audience comprehended—then pandemonium broke loose. Again and again Darius Marsh was called before the curtain, his old prestige re-established. "The fallen star" was once more fixed in the firmament of lasting fame.

Not only fortune, not only fame his, but love—the tender devotion of the peerless creature, Aelene Ward, whose clever plan had influenced the test that led the fickle public back to its old idol.

AND NOW THEY ARE COOKING TOBACCO TO MAKE IT BETTER

For a good many years The American Tobacco Company have been conducting a series of experiments having as their object the improvement of smoking tobacco.

And it is interesting to know that one of the greatest of their discoveries was one of the simplest, and that was, that cooking or toasting tobacco improved it in every way, just as cooking most foods improves them.

They took a real Burley tobacco, grown in this country; toasted it as you would toast bread; moistened it to replace the natural moisture driven off by toasting; made it into cigarettes, called them "LUCKY STRIKE," the toasted cigarette, and offered them to the public.

The result has been the greatest demand ever created for any tobacco product in a similar length of time.

The change produced by toasting is not only most wholesome, but the flavor is greatly improved, just as cooking improves meat, for example.—Adv.

Win the War by Preparing the Land Sowing the Seed and Producing Bigger Crops

Work in Joint Effort the Soil of the United States and Canada CO-OPERATIVE FARMING IN MAN POWER NECESSARY TO WIN THE BATTLE FOR LIBERTY

The Food Controllers of the United States and Canada are asking for greater food production. Scarcely 100,000,000 bushels of wheat are available to be sent to the allies overseas before the crop harvest. Upon the efforts of the United States and Canada rests the burden of supply.

Every Available Tillable Acre Must Contribute; Every Available Farmer and Farm Hand Must Assist

Western Canada has an enormous acreage to be seeded, but man power is short, and an appeal to the United States allies is for more men for seeding operation.

Canada's Wheat Production Last Year was 225,000,000 Bushels; the Demand From Canada Alone for 1918 is 400,000,000 Bushels

To secure this she must have assistance. She has the land but needs the men. The Government of the United States wants every man who can effectively help, to do farm work this year. It wants the land in the United States developed first of course; but it also wants to help Canada. Whenever we find a man we can spare to Canada's fields after ours are supplied, we want to direct him there.

Apply to our Employment Service, and we will tell you where you can best serve the combined interests.

Western Canada's help will be required not later than April 5th. Wages to competent help, $50.00 a month and up, board and lodging.

Those who respond to this appeal will get a warm welcome, good wages, good board and find comfortable homes. They will get a rate of one cent a mile from Canadian boundary points to destination and return.

"And now is the winter of our discontent made glorious summer," by the balmy breezes.

It is worthy of mention that the Damon School Parent-Teacher Ass'n is making a campaign toward suppressing the curse of the comic valentine, by substituting a box for the exchange of pretty and artistic ones. It would be a wise thing to enact a law that no comic valentines could be made. It educates (?) children in cheap and inartistic pictures and verse and inculcates lessons of unkindness. In this time of paper shortage it is, I would almost say, a criminal waste of paper.

Through the thoughtfulness and kindness of Mr. H. R. Skelton each pupil in the Damon School was presented with the Biography of Mr. Edison, the Electric Wizard, on his 71st birthday. The biography is prettily gotten up and is a delightful souvenir. Mrs. Sirovich also was the recipient of one which she values. The study of Mr. Edison's life is an inspiration. Mr. Skelton is associated in business and has frequently seen Mr. Edison.

Mrs. E. E. Bickford gave a very successful and pretty luncheon and what in aid of the rug fund of Dorothy Bradford Chapter, O. E. S. at her home on Friday. The tables and rooms were artistically decorated in a Saint Valentine and hearts were much in evidence. Valentines were the favors. The luncheon consisted of sea clam chowder (made in the Chef's best style), sweet pickles, oysterettes, salmon salad, rice, quash pie, tarts, coffee, and was delicious. Luncheon took place from 1 o'clock until 2 o'clock, when a silent auction and progressive was played until 4:30 o'clock. The prizes for progressive were awarded as follows: a silk bag, Mrs. Jay of Hingham; lace stock, Mrs. George Downing; consolation, Japanese pig tray, Mrs. Grace Abearne. The prizes for auction were mahogany plate, Mrs. Gardner; silk bag, Mrs. Fearing; consolation match safe, Mrs. Doe.

Mrs. Bickford is in receipt of a very interesting letter from Francis Krause, who is in France with the 101st, now occupying one of Napoleon's old camps.

Mrs. Mary Shaw and daughter Flora have recently returned from New York where they were joined by William, who is "back from France" with his ship "somewhere in American waters." They had a pleasant time together. Mrs. Shaw and Flora stopped at Monson over Sunday.

We are very sorry to report the serious illness with pneumonia of Mr. N. J. Guay, but glad to say he is out of danger now.

The Guild of St. Elizabeth had a very pleasant meeting on Tuesday evening with Mrs. John Sweeney of the Cleveland House as hostess, assisted by Miss Katherine Sweeney, Mrs. John Joyce, Mrs. Robert Kelley and others. A most delicious luncheon of salads, fruit and lobster, stuffed peppers, rolls, cakes and coffee was served. The ladies deserve great credit for the hospitable and artistic manner in which they regaled the Guild. There was a large number in attendance. Some social events to make money were planned. The towels made last week were turned in. Plans discussed. The secretary, Mrs. Morton, read a letter of thanks from a young man fitted out and also two interesting reports of recent meetings. The guests were reluctant to depart as all were having such a good time and only the threat by the redoubtable Thomas who conveys the ladies back and forth that he would leave them broke up the party. It was red letter event.

Captain Harrison Snow is continuing to gain and is able to sit up a while every day. It was feared at one time that the Captain would not recover and his many friends rejoice. Capt. Snow has traveled extensively and is an interesting talker, with a host of friends.

Ray McDonald was pleased to receive a letter from Lieut. John Sweeney who has been assigned as chairman of the sanitary division at Chattanooga and has secured a red ribbon which in a way is a promotion. Ability recognized, and it is a source of great pleasure to his host of friends here.

HULLONIANS' HAPPY HOURS

Mrs. John L. Mitchell and daughter Letitia were home for a brief sojourn last week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Mitchell have had the pleasure of having their son Earl home for a brief furlough. He left here to take a position on a battle cruiser somewhere.

The S. A. S. A. P. Hull Village unit is very busy finishing up all work already started, and this week on Wednesday began to make towels. It is expected that they will soon have some sort of a benefit performance.

The services at the M. E. Church on Sunday were of unusual interest from the fact that in addition to the good preaching and choir singing, Mr. Silberman played "Adoration" as a violin solo and in the evening Mrs. Hollis organist, Mr. Libberman violinist, Mr. Spilane celloist, played as a trio, Seubert's Saravade. It was well received. These young men are from the 16th Co.

Mrs. Frank Harlow and Mrs. Frank Sylvester gave a very pretty and successful whist and collation in aid of the Hull Branch S. A. S. A. P. at the former's home on Saturday evening. Each lady of the Central Unit has pledged herself to raise $4.00 towards funds for the work of the organization and it was to raise this money the ladies combined. About 25 were present. After a delicious collation served at about 11 o'clock, a social was held until 12. Everybody had a good time. Mrs. John M. Bryant and Mrs. Newton Wanser will give a "peanut whist" Monday evening, Feb. 25th, at 8 p. m. at the residence of Mrs. Bryant in aid of the S. A. S. A. P. fund. The tickets are 25 cents. Everybody assume a good time.

Many here remember Miss Edith Erskine, a former teacher here who married Lieut. Thomas A. Clarke, at that time stationed at Fort Kevere. Captain Clarke, for such is his rank now, is stationed at Fort Barry, Cal. and Mrs. Clarke and their son Erskine have been there since their return from the Philippine Islands where they were stationed for three years.

The supper and dance given by Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Bryant, Mrs. Harlow, Mrs. Sylvester in the town hall in aid of the S. A. S. A. P. brought in $56 clear of expense instead of $45 as stated last week.

The special interesting event of this week was the dance held by the boys of the Central Fire Station in aid of the S. A. S. A. P. at the town hall, Hull Village Good for the boys.

Mr. Eugene Mitchell, Sr., has been ill for about six weeks with influenza and is only slightly improved at present writing.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Neal and family will occupy Nicol Cottage, Highland avenue, after March 1st. Mr. Neal was home on Sunday.

Mrs. James Murphy and Mrs. D. Hannan attended the meeting of the Guild of St. Elizabeth on Tuesday, which was held with Mrs. John Sweeney.

Mr. Dominick Hannan has been very ill as a result of getting his face frost bitten.

Mr. Andrew F. Pope has been chosen as secretary of the Hull Village Unit of the S. A. S. A. P.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Nickerson will entertain the Misses Grace and Florence Bethune and Mr. Chester Sloan over the week end.

Notice is directed to the town warrant printed in another column of the paper.

The Hull porkers, raised last summer, are all right. The writer writes rightly whereof she knows and can testify that the one raised by Win. Sylvester and family was a good one, because Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester kindly remembered her with some bacon and ham.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Munch have recently returned from a pleasant tour of the principal resorts of the South and congratulate themselves on escaping some severe weather. They are welcomed back by their many friends here.

Haster Bros. have established a cash store in accordance with a movement among grocers generally, looking toward a just and equitable treatment of all the grocer, the customer, and the wholesaler dealer. It has been found by Haster Bros. and others that they can do more for their customers in value if the business is put strictly upon a cash basis. The wholesalers are demanding cash and the retailers are obliged to pay cash, therefore it becomes imperative that the customers pay cash. By doing business in this way the retailer enabled to give the full value of the customer's money in goods. Beginning March 1st when the cash and carry (see adv) regime goes into effect goods will be sold by this liable firm as cheap and cheaper in some instances than the so-called cooperative and chain stores.

Pranks of Memory.
In Brander Matthews' volume of recollections he repeats Mark Twain's statement that at a certain age he was able to remember some things that had happened and many that had not and when he got a little older he would remember none but the latter.

Little Habits Count.
Great business men get the habit of being on time. It is they who know best the value of time, and the importance of saving it by being prompt. Yet it may be hard to acquire the fixed habit of always being prompt, but it can be done and it is worth while to do it. In the commonest things everyone is influenced by little habits that we seldom suspect.—Exchange.

Empress Owned a Train.
One of the most luxurious royal trains in existence belonged to the Empress Marie of Russia, mother of the ex-tsar and sister of Queen Alexandra, says the London Observer. During her majesty's visits to our shores this palatial train used to wait for her at Boulogne at a heavy expense, and was ready at a few hours' notice to convey her across the continent when her visit to England was ended.

Turks and Calcos Islands.
Turks and Calcos Islands form a dependency under the government of Jamaica, but geographically they are a portion of the Bahamas, of which they form the two southernmost groups. There are upwards of 30 small islands with an area of 165 square miles, but only eight are inhabited. The population is about 8,000, of whom only 300 are whites. The most important industry is the salt raking.

Thoughtlessness Rebuked.
My sister came to make us a visit and Peter, a neighbor's small boy, was an interested spectator when her trunk was being unpacked. Timidly he asked her if she had brought any candy with her and upon receiving a negative answer, inquired if she had any gum. This also producing no results he said: "Didn't you find there was going to be any little boys in this town?"—Chicago Tribune.

Would Connect Seas.
A new project of American engineers is a giant canal 250 miles long to connect the Arctic Ocean and the Baltic sea, extending from Kandalaska, on the White sea, to Tornes, near the Swedish frontier on the Gulf of Finland. The cost is estimated at $150,000,000.

Typical Pipes of the Nations.
The clay pipes used by the natives of various countries and nationalities are quite numerous and have their own individual fashion almost characteristic of each country. The French clay pipe is gay in color and for a few cents one can buy one decorated with the carving of animals' heads, and other adornments. The Hungarian clay pipe has a bowl of clay, and a long stem of either wood or bamboo. This pipe is usually large, with a big bowl, and the average cost is ten cents.

Crookedest of All Rivers.
The crookedest river in the world, according to the Railway and Marine News, is the Humboldt, which flows southwesterly through central Nevada. At one place the river flows eight miles between two points two and a half miles apart, its course being north 25 times, east 18 times, south 30 times and west 41 times. At 33 different points it is within 150 feet of itself, the current flowing in opposite directions. And it ends its course by fading away into the desert.

Fertile Land Untouched.
The mountain regions of Cuba include many ridges and valleys of extremely fertile land, nearly all untouched, and existing practically as they did before the time of the Spaniards.

Street Car on Runners.
When the ground is covered with snow in at least one city in Norway a trackless trolley car hauls as a trailer a passenger car mounted on runners.

WITHIN 120 DAYS OF ENLISTMENT Soldiers Must Insure Inside Four Months

Under an act of Congress approved Oct. 6, 1917, members of the military forces of the United States, in addition to other privileges, are given the right to take out insurance with the government. This act is being administered by the secretary of the treasury, through the Bureau of War Risk Insurance of the Treasury Department.

Relatives should interest their soldier boys in this insurance and see that he takes it within 120 days of his enlistment.

This article is designed to explain as clearly and briefly as possible some of the essential facts that should be known by the men and women who are applying for war insurance. The questions and answers are based on inquiries that have come to the Treasury from soldiers and sailors.

The necessity of prompt action with regard to this insurance can not be emphasized too strongly. Persons who were in the service on or before Oct. 15, 1917, can not apply for the insurance after Feb. 12, 1918. Those who joined the service after Oct. 15, 1917, have 120 days thereafter in which to apply.

What it is.

Q. By whom is this insurance offered?

A. By the United States government, as authorized in an act of Congress for that purpose approved Oct. 6, 1917.

Q. What security is back of this contract of insurance?

A. The United States government.

Q. Is it the only protection furnished by the government to its soldiers and sailors?

A. No. The government has provided, in addition, compensation for death or injuries or disease suffered in line of duty.

Insured—Beneficiaries.

Q. Who can be insured?

A. When engaged in active service under the war department or navy department, any of the following can be insured:

- (1) Commissioned officers.
- (2) Enlisted men (meaning a person, male or female, enlisted, enrolled, or drafted into active service in the military or naval forces of the United States, including non-commissioned and petty officers and members of training camps authorized by law).
- (3) Members of the army nurse corps (female) and members of the navy nurse corps (female).

Q. Who can be named as beneficiary?

A. Any one or more of the following may be named: Wife, husband, child, grandchild, brother, sister, adopted brother, adopted sister, stepbrother, stepfather, parent, grandparent, or step-parent of the insured, and parent, grandparent, or step-parent of the insured's wife or husband.

Can insure 120 Days After Enlistment.

Q. How much can I take?

A. Any amount from $1,000 to $10,000 (in multiples of $500).

Q. For how long will the privilege of taking insurance last?

A. For only 120 days after enlistment or entry into active service unless you were in the service on Oct. 15, 1917, in which event you may apply at any time within 120 days from that date. The last day of which 120 days is Feb. 12, 1918.

Q. How can my premiums be paid?

A. By deduction from your pay, by deduction from any deposit with the government, or paid direct to the bureau by yourself or some one for you. To avoid lapse it is recommended that deduction from pay be authorized.

The Plan of Insurance.

Q. What form of insurance is it?

A. Annual renewable term insurance for the period of the war. Change to the usual forms of insurance on some other plan may be made within five years after the close of the war.

Q. Can I carry my insurance after the war?

A. Yes, in its present form, for a period of five years, but within such five years you must change it to another form which can be done without regard to your then physical condition. No medical examination will be required for the change.

Not Assignable.

Q. Can people to whom I owe money collect such debts out of my insurance?

A. No. This insurance can not be attached, assigned, or otherwise taken by creditors.

Q. Does the Government provide automatic insurance?

A. Yes; for those who may be totally and permanently disabled or who may die without having applied before Feb. 12, 1918, the government has provided insurance in amount of $25 per month payable to a wife, during her widowhood, child, or widowed mother.

MARCH 1 LAST DAY FOR FEDERAL RETURNS

Penalties for Income Dodgers
Are Severe. Get Your Return in if You Are Liable.

March 1, 1918, is the final day allowed under the Federal Income Tax law for the filing of Federal Income Tax returns. Persons who are required to file returns, under the provisions of law, and who fail to get their returns in on time are subject to severe penalties, as follows:

For making false or fraudulent returns, not exceeding $2,000 or not exceeding one year's imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court, and in addition, 100 per cent. of the tax evaded.

For failing to make return on time, not less than $20 nor more than $1,000, and, in addition, 50 per cent. of the amount of tax due.

If, on account of illness or absence from home you are unable to render your return within the time prescribed by law you may obtain an extension of thirty days if a request therefor is filed with the collector of your district before the due date of the return. In this request you must state the reason why the return cannot be filed within the time prescribed by law.

Collectors of Internal Revenue are not authorized to grant extensions of more than thirty days, but the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has authority to grant a reasonable extension beyond thirty days in meritorious cases. If you desire an extension of more than thirty days your request should be addressed to the Commissioner and should contain a detailed statement covering the reasons which make it impossible for you to file your return on or before March 1.

The Internal Revenue men are now completing their tour of Massachusetts, during which they were in touch with the people of every city and town. If you failed to get in touch with the deputy which visited your section, it is not too late to get advice. Consult your postmaster as to where the nearest deputy is now. Get your blank form, study the directions and the requirements as shown thereon, and make your return without fail if your income was sufficient to come within the bounds named in the law.

It is pointed out by Collector Malley that it is fully as important that the people comply with the Federal laws as fully as they are complying with the drafts of men and the conservation of foods and fuel. "The war must be paid for," says Collector Malley. "Congress has as much right to conscript a man as it has to conscript a dollar. The tax for 1917 is designed to reach moderate as well as large incomes, so that all persons who are in financial position to bear a portion of the heavy Government expenses can be assessed in proportion to their ability to pay."

"The man who is barely making a living or barely supporting a family is not affected by the 1917 law. But the man who is able to bear a share of the burden has been reached by the new law and he should accept his responsibility in the same patriotic spirit that our young men have shown in offering themselves for the great cause of the country in making the world safe for people of all kinds to live and to govern themselves."

This tax is one which recognizes women as on an equal basis with men. The unmarried woman, or the married woman with a salary, must make tax return just the same as any man. Only the woman supporting her mother or other members of her family may take out $2,000 exemption.

Under the law, the head of the family is the one whose earning power contributes to the family's support.

Similarly, a widow with small children to support, can take out $2,000 exemption, and $200 additional exemption for each of her children under 18. Thus it is intended that the law shall work to hardship on women having to struggle to get along. But each must file return if her income is $1,000.

A man whose wife dies, and who is left with small children to support upon a moderate income, may also take full exemption under the new tax law, and also claim $200 exemption for each of his children under 18.

The widower, under the law, is a single man, and must make tax return accordingly. Married men need not file returns unless they are earning $2,000 or more.

"This is as much a national obligation as the reporting for duty of a man drafted for service with the colors," says John F. Malley, Collector of Internal Revenue. "As it stands it is much a matter of the man or woman's own conscience. It is for him or for her to determine just how far he is liable to the tax. He must figure his own income, and if it reaches the figure named in the law, must make faithful report upon it to the proper authority."

This tax is distinctly a war measure, and will be in effect during the war.

"This is a people's tax—it reaches right down into the pockets of the small wage-earner. It makes him a partner in the job of winning the war."

Time Extended

In this edition will be found an article on Federal Income Tax. This was put into type before the Government granted an extension of time to everybody who is obliged to file for filing Federal returns, and our readers are so advised by Collector Malley. However, writes Collector Malley, returns should be filed at once by every person who can attend to the matter now.

An Arab's Saying.

"It is well that all men are not rich. Riches corrupt the soul, but virtue enlarges the heart." These words were found in the parchment of an Arabic treatise by some ruler and is no doubt the bitter verdict of many that are rich today.—Exchange.

Cupid Makes Early Call.

An American professor who has spent his life investigating and has collected the evidence of 1,703 young people, declares that both sexes start being wounded by Cupid's darts at the age of three and that a woman's love reaches maturity at twenty-two and a man's at twenty-four.

THE VERY IDEA

With Ernest Truax and Richard Bennett at Shubert Theatre, Boston, Next Week, Direct from Great New York

"The Very Idea," which will be seen at the Shubert Theatre, Boston, next week, ran for an entire season at the Astor Theatre in New York City, with Ernest Truax and Richard Bennett in the leading parts, and at once achieved an instantaneous success by reason of the novelty of the idea and the remarkable way in which a somewhat intimate and dangerous subject was treated by the author then new to fame, William LeBaron, who has since been responsible for the libretto and lyrics of "Her Regiment."

"The Very Idea" is what is known as a eugenic farce and deals with the martial troubles of the diminutive but accomplished comedian, Ernest Truax, whose stage-struck wife is childish. Both are anxious to perpetrate the species and are in a domestic dilemma until a friendly scientist in the person of Richard Bennett, who has made eugenics the hobby horse on which he rides, even to the discomfort of his friends, reveals a way out of their difficulties in the engagement of a handsome chauffeur to mate with their no less pleasing, maid-servant, whose offspring is to be appropriated by their employers. All comes right in the end, but not, of course, before many unexpected complications have ensued, in which, needless to say, both Richard Bennett and Ernest Truax extricate and further complicate each other in their own intrigues.

For their methods are naturally of an entirely different order, which adds to the amusement of the audience. "The Very Idea" has been described as "a chuckle, a laugh and a tear from curtain to curtain," and will be assuredly welcome.

WILLIAM GILLETTE

IN

"A SUCCESSFUL CALAMITY"

At Ye Wilbur Theatre, Boston, Next Week

Mr. William Gillette will appear in Clare Kummer's "A Successful Calamity" under the direction of Arthur Hopkins at Ye Wilbur Theatre, for a limited engagement beginning next Monday night, February 25th, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

Produced originally at the Booth Theatre in New York a year ago, it ran for the remainder of the season there to crowded and enthusiastic houses, and when Mr. Hopkins' new theatre, the Plymouth, was built in New York and ready for occupancy at the beginning of the autumn, he could think of no such magnetic attraction as William Gillette in "A Successful Calamity."

"A Successful Calamity" is a gentle satire on the home life of the rich, or rather their lack of home life. There is frequently a Shavian brilliance of dialogue, but the author does not share with Shaw his revolutionary views on sanctity, or want of sanctity, of the home.

Arthur Hopkins, who is entitled to the honor of having discovered Clare Kummer, the author, is also the producer of this new play, and R. E. Jones, who became widely known for his remarkable settings for the Russian ballet, has provided the decorations and scenic effects for "A Successful Calamity." Chief of all, perhaps, the play is a fine medium for Mr. Gillette.

Mr. William Gillette, a host in himself, is supported by a supremely good company, who are one and all admirably fitted for their respective roles. Miss Louise Rutter, Miss Ruth Findley, Miss Katherine Alexander and Miss Maria Ascaraga sharing the honors with the star and with William Gillette. Norval Keedwell, Richard Sterling, Robert Rendel, Manart Klippen, Claus Bogel and Charles Lane in the cleverest comedy of this or several seasons.

CASTLE SQUARE

"The German Curse in Russia" is the title of the amazing five reel official war film, taken by Captain Donald C. Thompson, distributed by Pathé and to be shown at the Castle Square Theatre next week.

The pictures show the Death Battalion of Women going into action, the wounded in the hospitals, the Bolsheviks, and their struggles with the loyal Cossack troops, fighting in the Carpathians, the armored cars dashing through the streets of Petrograd shooting at the buildings, close-up views of Lenin and Trotsky, and the Root, commission which strive to effect the work that the German propaganda in Russia had accomplished.

This will be merely a portion of a varied program which goes on continuously at the Castle Square from half past twelve until 10 o'clock. Other features will be several long photographs, the Hearst-Pathé News, and the Castle Square Players in a repertory of songs and dances.

HOLLIS THEATRE

At the Hollis Street Theatre, George Arliss and his supporting company will begin an engagement Monday, February 18th, in the new play "Hamilton," which has won great favor this season in New York, Philadelphia and Chicago. The drama is by Mrs. Mary P. Hamlin and Mr. Arliss himself, and it is declared by the majority of critics to be an important dramatic interest and in the opportunity that it affords Mr. Arliss for the display of his genius as a character actor, to "Dierckx," which has stood up to the present time as Mr. Arliss' most successful vehicle. Mr. Arliss appears under the direction of Klaw and Erlanger and George C. Tyler, who have surrounded the star with a company of exceptional excellence, and have mounted the play in a picturesque fashion.

The play deals with the earlier career of Alexander Hamilton and his struggles in support of the first administration, at a time when he was Secretary of the Treasury and was engaged in a great fight to bring about a unification, in a story, however, by no means dry history. In his domestic life Hamilton was quite as interesting a figure as he was in his public life. He was, indeed, not immune to the charms of the opposite sex, and the romantic interest of the present play centers upon his intrigue with the beautiful Mrs. Reynolds, who attempted, at the instigation of Hamilton's political enemies, to lure him to social destruction. This episode, as well as all other episodes and characters in the play, is historically accurate. The scenes of the play are laid in Hamilton's home and in the Old Exchange Coffee House in Philadelphia, in the year 1791, and among the notable personages introduced are Thomas Jefferson, James Monroe, General Giles, Betsy Hamilton and her sister, the out-spoken Angelica Church.

Mr. Arliss' supporting company includes Miss Jeanne Eagles, Mrs. Arliss, Marion Barney, Katherine Hayden, Hardee Kirkland, Carl Anthony, George Woodward, John Ravold, James O. Barrows, Guy Fawcett, Wilson Day and Dudley Digges.

Spring Suits Gracefully Economical

Four and a half yards, no more, but as much less as your ingenuity can manage with, that is the edict as to the allowance of wool for this spring's suits. Four and a half yards of 54-inch goods will make a suit on accepted lines for the woman of average figure.

It almost goes without saying that skirts are a yard and a half to two yards wide, coats about 28 inches long and fur felows conspicuous by their absence.

The new suits are excellent. Many of them are made of silk and many more of silk and wool combined and in others the accustomed order of things is changed, the suit is of silk and the trimmings and accessories—collar, cuffs, belt—of wool.

Two of the new spring suits, pictured above, are representative models. Since the appearance of the wool suit at the left of the two, coats have tended to grow shorter. It was among the earliest arrivals and compromised with the newest ideas by adopting a lengthened back panel which is laid in three shallow, invested plaits.

At the right a suit made of peacock satin is handsomely finished with embroidery in the same color of silk. A shaped band of it, about the waist, simulates a very graceful girde in the coat, and the bottom of the skirt is embellished with it. The liking for large buckles is revealed in a handsome circular one which is placed at the left side where the graceful coat fastens.

One wholly new spring suit in war time may be the mender allowance that our patriotism will concede, along with an easy conscience. But styles point the way to much remodeling and the transformation of last year's leftovers into this year's utility clothes.

Spring Styles for Children

In the last exhibitions of styles in the fall there appeared some unusual combinations of cloth in dresses, among them broadcloth and linen in handsome "dapper" frocks, that proved very attractive. The idea is coming to the front again in the displays of spring apparel for little girls, as well as in clothes for their elders. Aside from this there is very little that is altogether new in spring styles for children.

Fancy stitching, French knots and smocking appear to be the main reliance of designers in the matter of decorative touches for the small girl's frock. Voiles and the finer chambrays lend themselves to smocking so well that one is always running across it. Narrow frills of white organdy used as a finish on collar and cuffs, pockets and girde are another strong factor in decorative schemes. The frills have pleated edges and are wonderfully dainty. They are used with chambray mostly, and on the plain colors like pink, blue, tan and corn color.

A dress of fine white voile for the little girl of eleven or so is shown in the picture. It is made with a little jacket or contré effect, with a smocked panel of voile set in at the front. Light blue silk is used in the smocking, the stitches forming bands of color across the short waistline at the front. A collar, cuffs and narrow girde of the broadcloth are in blue and small white buttons make a pretty finish for them. Voile is durable and dainty and will stand wear and washing. The blue broadcloth must be handled with care when the time comes to wash it.

The dress for the little girl of three at the right of the picture is of blue chambray. It has collar and cuffs of heavy white cotton goods and pockets of the chambray. Needlework in black is used to outline a border at the bottom of the pockets. The skirt has a few shallow plaits, but the bodice is plain.

"There must be some mistake, your honor," replied the gray haired man.

"I think not. The officer who reported your case says your car was going at the rate of 25 miles an hour."

"Well, to tell the truth, judge, I didn't notice the speed of the car, but to prove to you that we couldn't have been going very fast, I will say that a friend and myself were playing a game of chess, and we had almost finished when we reached my office."

DID YOU EVER EAT A DURIAN

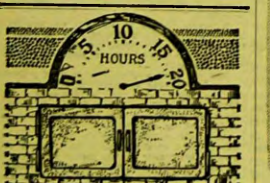

According to Traveler, Fondness for That Fruit is Distinctly a Taste That is Acquired.

My second day in Malaysia was almost spoiled by an attempt to eat a durian. Eating a durian, or, as in my case, essaying to do so, is an experience not soon lost to memory. Its achievement must be productive of a noticeable growth of ego. I often think how I should enjoy being able casually to boast, "I have eaten durians in the East," or "This tastes as good as a durian." The durian has a powerful personality. It is large and green, not unlike a breadfruit, and it is covered with unpleasant spikes. But these, I am told, are no deterrent to the man or beast who has acquired the durian habit—who, by complete suppression or mortification of the organs of smell, has succeeded in swallowing even a section of the fruit. It grows on tall trees, and natives will sit for days waiting for a ripening durian to fall. White children, once immune, prefer it to all other fruit; tigers will approach close to Malay villages, risking their lives to vary their carnivorous diet with a mouthful of durian.—William Beebe, Jr. Atlantic.

"There's a Reason"

SHOWS GERMAN AS HE REALLY IS

Brutal Acts of Hun Graphically Described by Major Murphy of Red Cross.

BEAT BEAST AT ALL COSTS

Must Build and Build and Sacrifice to Win the War—A War of Nations in Which Every Man, Woman and Child is Factor.

New York.—One thousand seven hundred men and women in the grand ballroom of one of the big hotels saw the German as he really is through the eyes of Maj. Grayson M. P. Murphy, Red Cross director in Europe.

Major Murphy arrived here recently, after being in France for nearly two months, and he is going back again. He came to make a report to Henry P. Davidson, chairman of the Red Cross war board.

Major Murphy said in part: "I want to ask you to consider for a moment the fact that up to this day Germany is entirely victorious in this war; that any peace that is made today on the basis of today's conditions or on the basis of the status quo ante would be practically a complete victory for Germany and for the German idea. Germany has lost nothing in this war except blood. She has fought her war on the territory of others. She has drawn from the territory of others vast supplies of materials and vast sums of money. She has had between forty and fifty million people working for her for practically no wage—really as slaves. She has established her cursed hold on Austria, on Turkey and on Bulgaria, and she has at her feet murdered Serbia and unfortunate Roumania.

Hun Stops at Nothing.

"You don't know what these German people are, I believe.

"I cannot begin to describe to you the horrible, brutal, beastly, consistent official things that Germany has done, not in isolated cases, but generally, to the women and children and the poor old suffering people in the countries where she has set her dreadful foot. She has stopped at nothing. British officers told me of seeing their wounded piled in heaps and hand grenades thrown in the midst and exploded to kill them while they lay there.

"British officers have told me of the men being taken as prisoners through Germany and German women coming and offering them a glass of water and spitting in it as they handed it to them. I came back across the water with a prominent British officer and statesman. He told me of a friend of his who lay wounded and suffering horribly in front of the German trenches. He lay there for a day and a half or two days, and the Germans came out at night, stood around him and scoffed at him, and kicked him and made fun of him, and then went away and left him, and when some of his own people went out at the risk of their lives and brought him in before he died he told them of these things.

"Did you think that the men in that British regiment would be willing to make a half peace with Germany? Do you think that the Canadians who went in the trenches and found their officers crucified—whether those men will make a half peace with Germany? I tell you it is only a short time before our boys who are over there now are going to be suffering those same things, and you have got to understand it here, and you have got to build and build and sacrifice, no matter what it costs, to beat that beast.

A War of Nations.

"This war is not a war of armies. It is a war of nations. There isn't a

REAL FIGHTING WHEN U. S. STARTS

Canadian Officer Praises Officers and Men of American Army in France.

EXPECTED TO WIN THE WAR

Come in at Time When Strain of Long Fighting is Beginning to Show on Both Allies and the foe—German Tactics Simple.

Chicago.—"The Germans must strike now or never," wrote Maj. George W. MacLeod, second in command of the Forty-ninth Canadian battalion, and one of the veterans of the hardest fighting the Canadians have seen in France. In a letter to Capt. A. W. Owen of the British-Canadian recruiting mission in this city, Captain Owen is attached to the Forty-ninth battalion.

"All we can do is to say, 'Let the battle commence,'" the letter continues. "Every one is anticipating a big German offensive either against ourselves or the French. There never has been such close co-operation as exists at the present time between ourselves and the French, and if the Boche starts anything he may get the surprise of his life.

Pleased With Americans.

"Every one is very much pleased with the Americans over here. They are a splendid looking lot of officers and men, and their manners and attitude leave nothing to be desired. Once man, a woman or a child in Great Britain, in Belgium, in France or in Italy that is not a factor in this war. I tell you that if you should go, as I have gone, about those ruined districts in France and see the little children, little bits of tots, four and five years old, driving in the herds at night, seeing the little boys coming down the road—little bits of tots—with their arms full of faggots that they were accumulating against the winter; old men and old women working in the fields until it was so dark that, as you looked, you could just make out those vague ghostly forms gathering in the crops for France.

"I have passed through those towns and looked in the windows at night, where you could see a little here and there, and they were always working, working, working, to carry on this war. It is not the armies of France that are the essential thing to France in this war, nor the armies of England, nor the other countries. Those armies will do their part, and do it to a finish, if they are supported by the people behind, and the great crying need in Europe today is to build up the spirit and keep up the spirit of the people behind the lines, and it is that great work in which the Red Cross—thanks not to us on the other side, but to you on this side—have performed and become the largest known single factor since our entry into the war."

they start in I think that the Germans will have some real fighting to handle. "One is gradually beginning to realize the meaning of the expression a 'war of attrition.' With the enormous slaughter which has been in progress for over three years the Germans and ourselves are beginning to show the strain. We see it in the type of officers and men as regards physique. Our training, possibly counteracts to a certain extent this loss of physique, but I would not care to see the average unit of today placed alongside its former self. Similarly with the rest of the belligerents. It is at this juncture that the Americans arrive, and one is immediately struck with their appearance. The first million men from the United States army should nearly be able to finish the war provided they are not used in dribbles. Given a completely new army, say of two full corps, or possibly three, in the spring and the end of the war should be not long postponed.

German Tactics Simple.

"I do not think that we are at the last ditch by any means. We have been in tight corners before, and will no doubt sweep our way out of the present one. A German offensive put on simultaneously against the French and ourselves at the present time would, however, make it fairly stiff going.

"I don't, however, if the German is really sufficiently strong to do this: I see two determined sustained offensives. That he will use diverse tactics is probable. He must finish the job this winter, or he never will, and all we can do is to meet the blow when it comes, or, possibly anticipate that blow by one of our own. The German grand strategy has never been anything but simple. His tactics are different. His strategy has been simply to wear down the forces opposed to him until a single is reached when he can attack."

Responds Generously to Important Work of Conserving the Future Generations.

Save the children! This cry arises appealingly in France, Belgium, Serbia and every one of the war-stricken countries. The American Red Cross is responding generously to this most important work of conserving the future generations. It is caring for 24,000 children in France and 6,000 children in Belgium.

Some of these children had not had a bath in six months when the Red Cross nurses took them in charge. The relief of their sufferings touches a universal heart-chord and perhaps does more than any other form of relief to arouse the lasting gratitude of foreign peoples for the United States. Your gift to the Red Cross is wreathing in smiles the faces of little children who were starved, sick and terrorized.

HUSBAND COURTS WAR, BUT NOT WITH SPOUSE

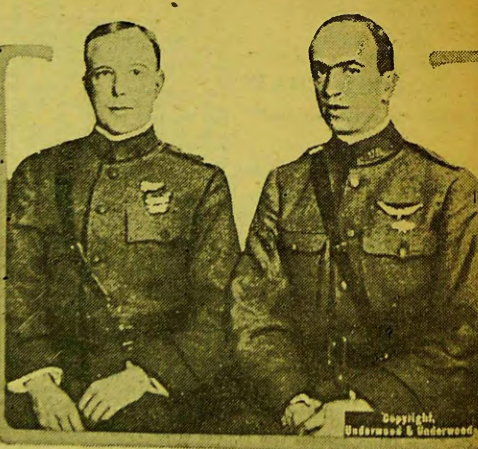

Independence, Kan.—A married man of this city recently returned his questionnaire and waived all his rights to exemption.

When asked why, as a married man, he didn't take advantage of them, he said: "Exemption be d—d. You don't know my wife. Say, man, I'd rather walk across No Man's land and back barefooted than live with that woman."

Women in War Work.

All of the large plants are renovating their buildings and installing sanitary equipment and restaurants in order that they may comply with the state laws for the employment of female

WORK AMONG ALIENS

College Women Training for Americanization Campaign.

Opportunity for Splendid Service by Those Having Knowledge of Foreign Languages.

Washington.—The knowledge of foreign languages which before the war seemed almost superfluous equipment and of little practical use except as a finishing touch to an education of culture, is now being appreciated by the demand for volunteers to work with aliens, and spread the ideal of Americanization. One of the four war courses at Vassar college, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., is "training for work with aliens," taken by those who have conversational command of a modern language. This course will fit young women for work in citizenship, translation, the education of aliens and other social work connected with alien supervision. Young college women in Cleveland are giving evenings to educating foreigners. War news is printed daily in various languages, and posted in the school centers and questions are encouraged and answered.

The University of Wisconsin Y. W. C. A. social service committee is conducting a Big Sister movement among Italian children, and works with a neighborhood house in the Jewish quarter. The Collegiate Alumnae association of Minneapolis, Minn., has a untitled aid committee which supplies volunteers to teach English to foreign soldiers and civilians.

Miss Edith Bennett, head of the Chicago Collegiate Alumnae Bureau of Occupations, reports many culls in the fall for secretaries and translators with a knowledge of French and Spanish. Swarthmore classes in elementary German have shrunk this year, while Spanish has won a sudden popularity, the classes having tripled in enrollment.

Plans are under way to hold a motion picture show in Irving Hall some time in March for the same fund. The pictures will be interesting and new.

Major H. Dwight Cushing has been appointed Commander of the Anti-Aircraft Machine Gun Battalion and has been ordered to Camp Wentworth, S. Carolina.

Maj. Cushing is considered one of the most efficient gunnery officers of this State. He is a native of Hingham and a graduate of Dartmouth. After his graduation he joined the 1st Corps of Cadets and after nine years of service was transferred to Co. C. 8th Infantry, M. N. C., of which he quickly became commander. Last year he was elected junior major of the regiment. When Gov. McCall was elected he was appointed on his staff.

At the regular session of the Probate Court at Plymouth Monday, the will of William L. Nichols of Hingham was allowed. Minerva Parker Nichols being appointed executrix. The will disposed of property valued at $38,000, of which $3,000 is real estate located in Maine, while the personal property amounted to $25,000. Among other bequests $5,000 is left in trust for the testator's children and grandchildren, with the proviso that on the death of his children and when the grandchildren attain majority the principal be divided equally among them.

Harvard University to establish a William Nichols scholarship. A codicil reduces the bequest to $3,000 and provides that this shall be left until the accrued interest makes it $5,000, when it becomes available for the scholarship.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Barnes of 111 Marlborough street, Boston, who have a country estate in Hingham, announce the engagement of their elder daughter, Miss Betty Lea Barnes, to Robert G. Stone, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Stone of Buckminster road, Brookline, and Marion. Miss Barnes was present early this season at a tea with dancing, in December, at Hotel Somerset. She is a member of this year's Sewing Circle and belongs also to the Vincent Club and, like many of its other members, she has been active in local Red Cross work.

Mr. Stone interrupted his course at Harvard, where he was a student, to enter the Naval Cadet School at Cambridge, from which he is to be graduated last Monday, and has received his commission as ensign, U. S. N. He expects to be ordered soon to sea duty.

Lieut. Joseph Andrew Society, C. A. R., held a meeting at the home of Mrs. George Thompson recently. After the salute to the flag and roll call, reports were read and accepted. Robert Down played several piano solos and Mrs. Wilder read some interesting letters. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Willard, the regent of the D. A. R.

Last week Wednesday afternoon, the February meeting of Old Colony Chapter, D. A. R., was held at "Rosenstein's" attractive home of the regent, Miss Susan B. Willard. After a few words of greeting, the salute to the flag and the singing of America, the regular reports were read and approved. Mrs. Walter B. Foster, chairman on Conservation of Old Colony Chapter D. A. R. gave a report both instructive and entertaining. Mrs. Clapp, the chairman of trench candles, being absent, the report was made and also read a letter from the Woman's Section of the Navy League of Washington, stating that all the candles were being used, notwithstanding contradictory reports. Mrs. Clapp has sent candles to our boys abroad and received appreciative letters in return.

The following named delegates and alternates were elected to attend the Continental Congress in Washington and the state conference to be held in Worcester: Miss Susan B. Willard, Regent, Mrs. E. L. Florence; Regent's alternates, Mrs. Charles Groves; delegate alternates, Mrs. Knowlton, Mrs. Lincoln, Mrs. Partridge, Mrs. Swan, Mrs. Stringer, Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Lunt and Mrs. Foster.

The special guest of the afternoon was Mrs. Frank H. P. Shumway, State Vice-Regent. She entertained the members and guests with a selection of songs. Mrs. Shumway was accompanied by a C. A. R. Society of Melrose, and it was fitting that the members of the C. A. R. of Hingham should be permitted to hear her speak.

A social time and simple refreshments followed.

The assisting hostesses were Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Whiton and Mrs. Wilder.

The ladies of the Standish Baptist church will give a "colonial" supper in the chapel Friday evening, Feb. 22nd.

There were 75 present at the neighborhood party given to George and Everett Peterson in "Crooked Lane" hall at North Duxbury last Wednesday night. 73 sat down to a fine supper, which shows there is some life at North Duxbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peterson held a family reunion last Sunday. 12 children and 10 grandchildren were present.

Mr. George Peterson has returned to his home in Idaho.

The senior class M. H. S. '18 held a social Valentine's night in S. of V. hall. About 60 were present.

In spite of the weather a large number attended the patriotic service in the 1st Congregational church Sunday. Several interesting descriptions were read about the authors of the songs that were sung. Next Sunday a similar service will be held in the chapel.

Several ladies from the Marshfield W. C. T. U. attended the W. C. T. U. county convention at Whitman last Friday.

A number of members attended the S. of V. Aux. held at the home of Mrs. David Brown last Thursday. Mrs. S. Anna Ewell was installed as a Patriotic Instructor and Mrs. Susie Porter as press correspondent.

The Marshfield W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Dr. Bartlett, Friday P. M. Town meeting the 4th of March.

Valentine's day proved to be a very enjoyable one for Miss Fay Coswell. She and Miss Hannah Sherman were invited to the home of Miss Edith M. Moury to meet one or two friends to sew and knit.

The friends continued to arrive until there were 22 present. The pleasant part of the afternoon was when Miss Coswell was the recipient of a linen shower, including several sheets and napkins, 12 pairs of towels of all kinds, aprons, in fact her box is well filled with many useful and beautiful things. Miss Moury served light refreshments. There were many who would like to have been there, but were unable to be present. We certainly congratulate Miss Coswell. There is an old saying, "Good deeds like chickens come home to roost," and Miss Coswell has always been ready and willing to use her musical talent for the happiness of others and do all the good that she could. Miss Florence Keene assisted Miss Moury.

Rev. H. K. Bartow has been at home this week for a few days. On last Sunday afternoon he addressed the Girls' Friendly Society at St. Paul's Cathedral rooms, Boston.

The Boy Scouts were entertained by the Men's League of the Second Congregational Church on Tuesday evening by a supper and speeches. It was a father and son meeting.

Miss Irene Oliver, who has been ill, is out again.

Miss Ethel Keating is at the City Hospital, Boston, with appendicitis.

Mrs. Dennis Golding, who has been in Homeopathic Hospital for an operation, expects to return home this week.

Miss Martha Blossom, Martha Bates, Dorothy Bosworth, Harry Flint, Paul Thayer and George Kimball attended the "Lure of Alaska" at Tremont Temple last Saturday, chaperoned by their teacher, Miss Minnie Bigelow.

Rev. Frank B. McAllister will take up his residence soon in Durham, N. H., where he has been called to take charge of the Congregational Church in absence of the pastor, who has gone to France for war work.

There have been several deaths during the past week of aged people who are natives of Cohasset.

Mr. Samuel James, one of our old and respected citizens, who had made his home in Cohasset all his life, residing in the house in which he was born and reared, it being the home of his father before him on King street, passed away on last Wednesday morning, February 13, at the ripe old age of 79 years, 10 months, after a life of earnest, honest and faithful effort in his vocation as a farmer. Mr. James was descended from good old Yankee stock on his father's and mother's side, his father being John Ripley James of Cohasset and his mother was Sarah Cheney of Boston. She was the daughter of Mr. Cheney, who was a member of the Revolutionary War. The late Mr. Samuel James lived in a house built by his great-grandfather, John James, in 1720, and it has been the home of his family for many generations. He was a very successful farmer and a very kind and generous man. He was a member of the Congregational Church and a very active worker in the church. He was a very good friend to the poor and the sick. He was a very good father and a very good grandfather. He was a very good citizen and a very good neighbor. He was a very good man and a very good example to all of us.

Mr. John M. Washington, father of Mr. James A. Washington, who resides on North Main street, passed away at his son's home on last Wednesday morning of last week, February 13, at the age of 79 years, 0 months. Mr. Washington was born a slave and after he was made free he took up the trade of painter. Of an especially religious bent, he devoted much effort to the work of the negro churches with which he was affiliated, being superintendent of the Shiloh Baptist Church, Sunday School, Washington, D. C., in which he resided before coming here about five years ago. A touching feature was the fact that the pastor, Rev. Mr. Carrington of Cambridge, Mass., preached his funeral sermon and he was once a pupil in Mr. Washington's Sunday School.

He spoke fearfully of the goodness, integrity and faithfulness of Mr. Washington in pursuing the work of the Master. Seven years ago he suffered a paralytic shock, since which he has been an invalid and for over a year confined to his room. Although a great sufferer he was patient and uncomplaining of his lot. He is survived by a widow and five sons, two in Chicago, one in Washington, D. C., and one in New Jersey. These last two came on to the funeral, which took place Friday at 2 o'clock from the home of his other son, Mr. James A. Washington of this town. Interment will be at Woodlawn cemetery.

Four grandchildren also survived. Mr. Washington was a Mason of high degree. The floral tributes were many, and showed by their lovingness the esteem and respect in which he was held by his friends and neighbors.

The Talk and Sew Club held a Valentine's Party last Thursday, Feb. 14th, at the home of Mrs. John Roche. Mrs. Thos. Roche, Jr., being the hostess. A delightful evening was passed.

Another of the few old veterans of the Civil War who make Cohasset their home, passed away at East Weymouth, Feb. 17th. Robert Lorenzo Curtis in his 74th year. Mr. Curtis lived in the Beechwood District where he was especially well known although he was known and liked by the townspeople in general, for he was a familiar figure at the Memorial Day Parades of the Henry Bryant Post, G. A. R., of which he was a member. Mr. Curtis was a sailor in the Navy on the "Flag" from Dec. 28, 1862 to Feb. 15, 1865. A term of service of which Mr. Curtis and his relatives might well be proud.

He survived his wife who was Sarah Frances Williams by several years. The last few years he has resided his home on Doane street, Beechwood, and lived in another building on his place. It is with regret that we record one after another the passing of these veterans of the Civil War with whose faces we have been familiar for many years as a part of that great Army to whom we are indebted for a Union free and undivided. Mr. Curtis was one of the very few veterans who were able to participate in the Flag Raising last April on the Common and the C. C.'s daughter secured an especially fine picture of the five veterans who were in or about the auto which conveyed them. Of these Mr. Curtis is one of the few who are still living.

Funeral services were held at the Beechwood Congregational Church, Rev. L. M. Bosworth officiating. The Odd Fellows of this town, of which he was a member, had charge of the funeral arrangements. He is survived by a brother, Mr. Charles Curtis, of Norwell, and Mr. Groves of Taunton. He had no children.

Pave Not Your Parlor With It. The most expensive wood in the world is said to be the boxwood imported from Turkey for the use of engravers. The cost ranges from four cents a square inch up to ten cents a square inch for the best grade. An ordinary wagon load of boxwood would cost many thousands of dollars. A string of beads made of it would be a fairly expensive piece of jewelry.

Oldest Inhabitant of Hingham
Albion, the population of which is approximately 1,000,000, is inhabited by a race that has nothing in common with the rest of the world. The inhabitants of this town are the descendants of the first settlers of the New England colonies, and they speak a language which is a mixture of Slavonic and Greek derivations, engage in primitive occupations and lead a more or less primitive life. The Albanians are considered the oldest inhabitants of Europe, their history going back to times immemorial.

Huts on Stilts.
The early German and Gallic dwellings were mere huts, some raised above the ground on stilts, and some accessible by ladders (like many of the houses of New Guinea at the present time), and others resembling somewhat the primitive cabins of the prehistoric lake dwellers. Their roofs were low, thatched with coarse straw and reeds, and there was usually but one window, high up under the eaves. It was a long time before these were displaced by more solid structures.

Children's Resistance.
Children's recuperative powers, generally speaking, are superior to those of older people. Proper rest and care will often ward off serious illness, but this requires care and insight on the part of the parents, as the children themselves are not apt to call attention to their condition until they become seriously ill.
